

KIDS & CLASSROOM PACK

Halloween Picture Bingo

Ages 4+

Players: 2-6

20-40 min

You need: the cards, sweets or buttons as tokens

How to play. Give each player a card and a handful of sweets. The caller pulls a calling card from a bowl, says it and shows it. Players cover that picture if they have it. First to cover a line shouts BINGO! and the caller checks it against the cards already pulled.

Calling cards. Cut apart, fold, and pull from a bowl or hat. This free sample has cards 1-6 (up to 6 players). The full bundle has all 30 cards, tokens and a caller checklist.

1 The Ghost's Picture Note

Wendell left you a note, but ghosts don't write in letters. They write in pictures!

YOUR MISSION: Use the picture key. Find each picture in the note and write its letter underneath. The letters spell how Wendell gets around the manor.

Stuck? Try a hint first!

Puzzle 1: Hints & Answer

Read the hints out one at a time, Nudge first. Hint 3 nearly gives the answer away, so save it for emergencies. Fold the answer under, or cover it with your hand!

Puzzle 1: The Ghost's Picture Note

● Hint 1-1	Nudge	● Hint 1-2	Bigger hint	● Hint 1-3	Nearly the answer
Look at the first picture in the note. Can you find the same picture in the key?		The bat in the key has the letter B under it, so the first letter is B.		Bat = B, spider = R, moon = O, moon = O. One more picture to go!

○ Puzzle 1 The Ghost's Picture Note

ANSWER: BROOM

How it's solved: Match each note picture to the key: bat=B, spider=R, moon=O, moon=O, hat=M. That spells BROOM.

That was puzzle 1 of 12

In the full game, BROOM is the first password on Wendell's trail. Twelve puzzles, two trails, a cauldron code and a locked front door to escape before midnight, at Junior and Teen & Adult levels.

MEET THE SUSPECTS

Silas Hollowmere's masquerade ends with Silas dead at the foot of his own tower stair. One of these guests did it, and in the full game even the host doesn't know who. The full cast, from the Teen (13+) clean edition: see the whole game on Etsy.

VIVIENNE ASHGROVE, The Niece. Every room is a stage, and she has never once played the understudy. Costume: Black lace or velvet, long gloves, a raven-feather mask, and a string of pearls (any pearls will do).

PROFESSOR AMBROSE CRANE, The Antiquarian. He can tell a Ming vase from a fake at forty paces. His own reflection, less so. Costume: Tweed jacket or waistcoat, bow tie, a monocle or reading glasses, and a long-beaked bird mask.

MRS HESTER GRIMSBY, The Housekeeper. Thirty-one years at Hollowmere House. She knows where every body is buried. Figuratively. Mostly. Costume: High-collared black dress or a dark suit, an apron, a big ring of keys, and a plain white lace mask.

ROOK THORNFIELD, The Groundskeeper. Talks to crows. Doesn't talk to people. The crows seem to understand him better. Costume: Long dark coat, flat cap or hood, a crow or scarecrow mask, and a lantern (a torch in a jar works).

LADY SERAPHINA VANE, The Medium. She speaks to the dead. The dead, so far, have been very good for business. Costume: Layers of shawls and veils, lots of rings, a silver mask or a veil, and a deck of tarot cards to fiddle with.

CAPTAIN JASPER BLACKWOOD, The Explorer. Climbed the highest mountain in the world. Or so he tells everyone. Twice a night. Costume: An explorer's jacket, scarf and boots, a compass on a chain, maybe an eyepatch, and a dark half-mask.

ODETTE FAIRWEATHER, The Gossip Columnist. If it happened, she printed it. If it didn't, she printed it with a question mark. Costume: A cat mask, a cloche hat or beret, a notebook and pencil.

CLEMENTINE GRAY, The Solicitor. Never lets go of her briefcase. Never says more than she bills for. Costume: Pinstripes, a black domino mask, and a briefcase or folder held tightly at all times.

FELIX MOTH, The Magician. Hired to pull rabbits out of hats. Tonight he'd settle for pulling himself out of here. Costume: Top hat, cape, white gloves, a deck of cards; moth wings if you're feeling brave.

MINA COBB, The Maid. Nobody notices the maid. Which is why the maid notices everything. Costume: A black dress or shirt, a white apron and cap, and cat ears if you like.

LORD PERCIVAL PIKE, The Developer. Sees a haunted house and thinks: forty bedrooms, en suite. Costume: A top hat or smart suit, a red devil mask, and a gold pocket watch to check pointedly.

REVEREND LUCIEN MARSH, The Vicar. Preaches on Sunday. Reads ghost stories under the covers every other night. Costume: A dark suit with a white collar (card works), a skull mask, and a pocket Bible.
